Wednesday, November 17, 1897.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Read Supervisor's report.
—See "Fair Notice" elsewhere.
—Read town ordinance in another column.

—See Clerk's, Sheriff's and Trustees' sales elsewhere.

—Sheriff C. J. Barnard, of Lancaster, was in town on Monday to take in his charge Will Bush who is wanted in Lancaster for house breaking and larceny.

—A telegram was received in Wino-boro Tuesday, stating that Mrs. John D. Blair was dead and that she would be buried at Salem Church. Mrs. Blair was a sister of Dr. Scott.

—I expect to travel in the country for a few weeks. Those wishing pictures made should call before November 21st at W. W. Kuser's Gallery, Theban Hall, Wino-boro.

—Tenat houses are still going up at the factory, and in a short while the factory will be ready for business. Some pieces may have larger mills, but none have a prettier site for a mill than Wino-boro.

Now that the excitement of the Fair is over, the schools reopened on Monday morning. Both the white and colored graded schools were closed for several days during last week and the children enjoyed their holiday to the utmost.

—On Wednesday Miss Mary M. White, of Abbeville, was married to Mr. C. A. Milford. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian Church of Abbeville. Miss Mary F. McMaster was one of the bridesmaids.

—You can have visiting cards and wedding invitations engraved by R. Brandt, the jeweler. He can furnish them in the latest styles and on short notice. Send to him for prices and samples. The work is done by skilled engravers and his prices are the lowest obtainable. Read his ad.

—Mr. Quinn, one of the New England mill men, who have been making a tour of the South, accompanied Mr. D. A. Tompkins to Wino-boro on Monday and visited the Fairfield Cotton Mill. Mr. Quinn expressed himself as being very much pleased with the factory. Messrs. T. W. Landerdale, J. M. Beatty and J. F. McMaster met the visitors and showed them over the mill.

—The Anderson Advocate has proved that Mayor-elect Van Wyck is not a native of South Carolina, but was born in New York City. The Van Wycks lived in this State for some years, then moved to New York City. They returned to Pendleton when the present judge was about three years of age, and he lived in South Carolina until he was about 20 years of age.

—J. M. Beatty unloaded one car of machinery last week from the A. T. Atherton Co., of Pawtucket, R. I., consisting of openers and lappers, which are the first machines to manipulate the cotton in the mill and the best made in the United States. He is now unloading shuffling for the second story and will receive this week a car of cards from the Mason Machine Works. The drawing frames and spindles will be here in a few days.

—The Winthrop students did not attend the Fair on Thursday, after all. President Johnston has been absent from Rock Hill for some time and could not return to make the necessary arrangements. It was doubtless a great disappointment to the girls, for they thoroughly enjoyed the Fair last year, and attracted a great deal of attention. The Clemson boys were counting on having the Winthrop girls to "root" for them at the football game on Tuesday.

—The poor young fellow, Lee Carter, whose pitiful story is already well known, is getting better and will be sent to his parents in Richmond, Va., as soon as he is able to travel. On Sunday a collection was taken up in each of the churches for the benefit of the boy, and a nice little sum was collected for him. Since the story of the ill-treatment that the boy received, and his dreadful condition were made known, he has been treated with great kindness, and has received careful attention.

—Pickpockets were present at the fair in great numbers and put in a great deal of work, it seems, from the number of people who were robbed by them. One of our citizens who was taking in the fair was relieved of ten dollars by one of the pickpockets and has never heard of his money since. A young lady from Fairfield, also, had the misfortune to lose $25, but she was not robbed of it however. She made every effort to recover the money but probably will not succeed.

—The graduating exercises of the Charleston Training School for Nurses took place on Wednesday evening at half past eight o'clock in the Friends Church Hall. About eight or ten nurses received their diplomas and among the graduates were two young ladies from Ridgeway, the Misses Coleman. These young ladies have proved themselves already to be excellent nurses, and their success in their profession is assured. The board of commissioners of the City Hospital send out very pretty invitations to the graduating exercises.

—We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn and unhappy faces of dyspeptics in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from its source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done.

Dyspeptics and pale, thin people are literally starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food.

The Shaklee Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

Mr. Rion Appointed Postmaster.

Mr. Preston Rion has been appointed postmaster at this place. There were twelve or thirteen applicants for this office. Mr. Rion is a son of the late Col. James H. Rion and was born here and has spent his whole life here. He is courteous and obliging and we believe his appointment is acceptable to the community.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET SEIGLER

Mrs. Margaret E. Seigler, nee Robinson, the widow of the late George Seigler, of this county, died at Rock Hill on Wednesday, the 10th inst., in the sixty-first year of her age. She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church. Her remains were interred in the Seigler family cemetery, near Simpson's Turnout, this county, on Thursday, the 11th inst.

BURNED TO THE GROUND.

The home of Mrs. H. L. Elliott, Sr., on the outskirts of town, was destroyed by fire early on Saturday morning. At about 8 o'clock smoke was seen issuing from the roof of the house near one of the chimneys. The alarm was given and the engines were quickly brought to the house, but the fire had progressed so far that it was impossible to save the dwelling, and the firemen turned their attention to the outbuildings, which were very near the burning building, and succeeded in keeping the fire from spreading. The furniture, and in fact everything in the house was saved with the exception of a few articles. It is supposed that the fire originated from a defective stove. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

FATALLY BURNED.

News was received here Wednesday of the death of little Margaret Purden O'Neale, the 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neale, of Rock Hill, which occurred on Wednesday morning. The circumstances of the little one's death are very distressing, and the deepest sympathy is felt for the stricken parents. The child was playing in the yard on Tuesday, and it is supposed that in some way she got possession of a match, for in a short time her clothes were discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be extinguished one side of the little one's body was terribly burned. Every thing possible was done for her but the burns were so severe that she died the next morning. Mrs. O'Neale, the mother of the little girl, was, before her marriage, Miss Helen Ruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ruff, of Rock Hill, and her many friends here extend their heartfelt sympathy to her.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c. or $1.00 per bottle at McMaster Co.'s Drug Store. 2

A HOMICIDE.

Warren Suber killed by Sam Williamson. A negro named Warren Suber was shot by Sam Williamson, colored, on Thursday, in the Feasterville neighborhood, and died on Saturday evening at 5 o'clock. It is reported here that the difficulty arose about a pipe. Sam Williamson was lodged in jail on Monday evening under a magistrate's commitment. Frank Emerson, it seems, was present when the homicide occurred, and it was with his pistol that Williamson was shot. Emerson was put on the chain gang on Monday. Emerson was sitting, so it is reported, in Williamson's lap, when the latter pulled Emerson's pistol out his pocket and shot Suber. So Emerson is put on "the gang" for carrying concealed weapons.

The prisoners were brought to town by Robt. Carter, constable for H. A. Stevenson, Magistrate. Williamson claims that the pistol was accidentally discharged.

FAIRFIELD'S FINE CATTLE AT THE STATE FAIR.

Fairfield breeders of stock have always held that our county produces as good horses and cattle as any country; their opinion in this regard has been proven correct at our State Fair for many years, and as an instance we note the following premiums taken by the La Grange Stock Farm over heavy competition:

First on Guernsey bull.

First on Guernsey bull under 2 years old.

First on Guernsey bull under 1 year old.

First on Guernsey cow.

First on Guernsey heifer under 2 years old.

First and second on Guernsey heifer under 1 year old.

First on grade Guernsey cow.

First on grade Guernsey heifer.

First in the milk contest.

First on best bale wool.

Second on ferkin butter.

In concluding his report on the premiums the expert judge made the following entry in his book:

I also award to the Guernsey herd exhibited by John G. Mooney from the La Grange Stock Farm the first premium on the herd over all the herds of milking breeds of cattle on exhibition at the State Fair of South Carolina for 1897.

(Signed) F. A. Lovelock, expert judge.

(Signed) S. W. Vance, Supt. of Thoroughbred Cattle Dept.

The herd also tested under Prof. J. W. Hart, of Clemson College, more butter fat than any other exhibition.

ELLIOTT-RICE.

On Wednesday at 11 o'clock a. m. one of the nicest marriages ever held in Union took place at the Methodist Church. The contracting parties were Miss Kittie Rice, of Union, and Mr. William R. Elliott, of Wino-boro. Miss Rice is the youngest daughter of one of Union county's most highly esteemed citizens, S. M. Rice, and is very popular with all classes at home. The wedding party arrived at the church, and to the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's famous wedding march rendered by Mrs. Rose on the organ, McDermid on the violin and Ned Wallace on the piccolo, headed by the ushers, viz: Messrs. Peake, Lindsay, Duke and Norman, marched with military precision to their respective positions. Following the ushers came the bridemaids, splendidly attired, and each one bearing a splendid and large bunch of chrysanthemums in her hand. They marched in single file up each aisle then crossed to the opposite side of the chancel, and then remained in that position until the ceremony was concluded. The groomsmen followed the bridemaids and married similarly. The groom and his best man, Mr. Edward Hanshan, marched on the right aisle of the church, and the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Agnes Rice, marched on the left aisle. They met just in front of the altar when the groom took the bride and Mr. Hanshan remained standing with Miss Agnes Rice. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. J. E. Carlisle was very impressive. When the ceremony was over the altar was decorated with flowers from the church, where carriages were waiting them to convey them to Mrs. G. C. Perrier's, a sister of the bride, where an elegant repast was served to the attendants, and a few invited guests, relatives and friends. The attendants were as follows: Edward Hanshan with Miss Agnes Rice, Mr. Stevenson with Miss Meta Grimbail, Mr. Reeves Harry with Miss Carrie Duncan, Mr. Rice McKie with Miss Bessie Robertson, Mr. J. L. Spencer with Miss Daisy Waller, Mr. Maurice Moore with Miss Agnes Coleman.

Ushers—C. H. Peake, H. B. Lindsay, C. H. Norman and F. C. Duke.

After the entertainment at Mrs. Perrier's home, the bridal party took a short trip to Wino-boro, where they will make their future home. They have the best wishes of the many friends of the popular bride, and we hope that their days may be many and happy ones.—Union Times.

CORN LAND IS SUGAR BEET LAND.

The New Cattle, Indiana, Courier reports a meeting in that city last week of the farmers of the neighborhood to hear an address from Prof. Wiley, of the United States department of agriculture, on the subject of sugar beets. The meeting was composed of representative farmers, and was large enough to fill the court room, as the new industry is regarded with great interest by the farmers generally throughout the Middle States.

Prof. Wiley is a briefly explained, "give an instructive talk." Among other things that he said of general interest was that while some soils were better adapted than others to the growth of sugar beets, "any soil that was capable of producing good corn would produce good beets, having the requisite percentage of saccharine matter, if properly prepared and well cultivated." He laid much stress on the importance of deep plowing, in order to give the plants the proper growing ground, and of thinning out the plants so as to get the best results. One point that he made deserves special notice. "The sugar beet crop," he said, is not an "easy" one to raise. That is, it is not a crop that grows itself, or a lazy or slovenly farmer is likely to succeed with it.

Another interesting point, and one that will be new to most farmers, we think, related to the effect of the beet crop in improving land and enhancing its value. In discussing this part of his subject Prof. Wiley stated that in the northern part of France, the great beet and wheat producing section of that country, the annual average yield of wheat had increased from seven to twenty-six bushels per acre, and that the value of lands devoted to beet culture was "far in excess" of that of lands in other localities. The pulp from the factories, he added, is "invaluable as a food for cattle, sheep and hogs," the finest milk and butter in all Europe being made in those districts where the cows are fed on beet pulp." With a beet sugar factory at New Castle, he declared, "the farming lands within a radius of several miles, if now worth $100 an acre, would within five years be considered cheap at $200."

These facts and suggestions may prove interesting and useful to some of the farmers in South Carolina. Corn can be grown, and the sugar beet can be grown, according to Prof. Wiley, on any land that produces good corn.

Among the requisites for a successful beet sugar factory, which he mentioned, were "the abundance of good water and plenty of limestone." Good water and limestone in the State, and there is a plenty of limestone in some of the counties at any rate. The main requirement besides these two is a plenty of beets, of the right quality, and the very first question to be decided for any locality is whether it will produce good beets. That is a question which only the farmers of the district can decide. It is noted that at the meeting in Indiana county many of the farmers who were present exhibited specimens of beets which they had grown this year for purposes of experiment. I would appear to be highly desirable for like
